EX-PRESIDENT
WILSON LIKELY TO ENTER FIGHT

Former Chief Executive
Asks for Certified Copy of treaty.
SEES SIMILARITY
Moral Obligation Said To Be Same as Famous
Article 10.

Washington, Dec. 15.—Woodrow Wilson has sent for a copy—a certified copy—of the new four-powered treaty of the Pacific.

He asked one of his senatorial friends at the capitol today to get him a copy of the new treaty of the Pacific. He would like to see it as soon as possible.

Whether this request on the part of the former president presages his intention of re-engaging in the political turmoil on the hill none of his friends would say today, but it was taken as proof positive that the influence of Woodrow Wilson will make itself felt in the treaty discussion that lies ahead.

For the time being, Mr. Wilson and his friends at the capitol are counseling silence on the question of ratification of the new four-powered pact. They want time to consider the developments of the last four weeks, before committing themselves to any line of action.

The former president is understood to have taken no definite attitude on the treaty yet although it can be stated that he sees no difference between Article II of the new treaty and Article X of the much fought and finally defeated covenant, except a difference in phraseology. The normal comment, Mr. Wilson and his friends believe, is the same in both articles.

Mr. Wilson however, has refrained from expressing to any of his supporters what he thinks out to be the Democratic policy. He is understood to have voiced the opinion that the Democratic attitude should be adopted with reference to the works of the conference as a whole rather than with reference to one of the several treaties that are emerging from the parley here. He thinks, according to his friends, that the treaty which replaces the Anglo-Japanese alliance treaty on Yap, the treaty on naval ratio and the nine-powered agreement regarding China should be considered together.

In the quiet of his S street home, the former president is reading and studying every phrase of the Washington conference.

"With his return to comparative good health, he is now doing more work than at any time since he left the White House," said one of his frequent visitors today. "He is a voracious reader of everything pertaining to the conference."

There will be a party of time for Mr. Wilson and his supporters to formulate their attitude with regard to the works of the conference. It is not likely that President Harding will transmit the four-powered treaty until he is ready to send up the Yap agreement and the naval treaty.

Because of the holiday recess, the senate will not get around to considering the documents until well into January.

OHIO TO HAVE PRESERVE
FOR GAME SAYS GOVERNOR

Vast Preserve of 10,000 Acres in Scioto County To Be Dedicated to Hunters, Executive Tells 800 People at Fish and Game Banquet Wednesday Night

That Ohio will soon have its first game reservation, with the proposed purchase of 10,000 acres of wooded land in Scioto county, was the statement made Wednesday night by Governor Harry L. Davis, to 800 people at the venison banquet of the Greene County Fish and Game Protective Association.

In making the announcement Governor Davis said that the state department of agriculture has been instructed to have an appraisal made and to institute appropriation proceedings to acquire the property for the game reservation. The establishment of this preserve will convert a large tract of unproductive land lying waste into an agency for the conservation of state and timber resources and at the same time allow its development in the interest of hunters, who annually contribute sums into the state treasury and who long have borne a large part of the cost of keeping our lakes and streams stocked with fish. The purchase price will come from the hunters' license fees, and there will be no added tax burden to the taxpayers.

Governor Davis said that Ohio had been slow in providing game reservations, and that other states had had similar provisions for hunters for some time. Pennsylvania, he said, operates several of these game sanctuaries but this is the first move of this kind in Ohio. He said that it is his plan to establish similar reservations in other parts of the state, tentatively in the marsh lands along Lake Erie, which are at present used by private hunting clubs. He said that such a move would throw open those natural hunting grounds to the public.

The chief executive said that the proposed game preserve in Scioto county, which he personally inspected a few weeks ago, will be stocked with all the species of game that at any time lived in southern Ohio, and that even small bear would be added to the reservation. Last year there were 300,000 citizens of Ohio who secured licenses permitting them to hunt," said Governor Davis. "All the streams in Ohio have been stocked with fish at the expense of the hunters, the money coming from this license fee fund. By encouraging the propagation of game and fish we are providing food for the present and future generations. Over 20,000,000 pounds of fish were taken from Lake Erie during the past year," the Governor said. "Upon taking office as Governor of Ohio, I made up my mind that if there was nothing else I could do to be commended by the people of this state, that I would at least make Ohio an enjoyable place for fishermen and hunters."

The Governor advocated a license fee for fishermen as well as hunters, during the course of his address. He said that the fishermen must feel indebted to the hunters for their good fishing because the streams are stocked with fish provided for by the hunting license fund, and that it is time that the fishermen bear some of the cost. He suggested a license fee of 50 cents for all fishermen over 16 years of age and that the money be used to restock the streams.

From the sportsman trend of his talk, Governor Davis turned to a recitation of his administration, during the latter part of his address. He said that he felt that the chief executive of the state owed an accounting to the people of the state for his acts, and with this in mind, he re-told the story of the organization of the Governor's cabinet and the new system now prevailing in the state administration.

The Governor concluded by wishing his audience a merry Christmas and a happy New Year. The Governor's party, including Adjutant General Florence and the Governor's publicity manager, Richard Harburger, came here Wednesday afternoon by motor, the first time the Governor had ever visited Xenia. The party arrived early in the morning and were met at the reception committee which had been sent to meet him. The party stopped at the Governor's inspection first, where the Governor inspected the ruins of Shorter Hall, destroyed by fire last week, and then proceeded to the Ohio Soldiers' and Sailors' Orphan's Home, where the chief executive said he spent an enjoyable two hours in going over the institution, concluding with a talk to the children. In opening his address, the Governor referred to his visit to the people present to see that these children have a merry Christmas. He also paid a tribute in opening, to Hal Matthews, aged 87, veteran sportsman, hunter and fisherman. He asked Mr. Matthews to stand up and receive the applause of the crowd.

Postmaster H. E. Rice acted as toastmaster after the venison banquet, in his opening speech, enlarging upon traditions of the Greene County, and unfolding the names of Whitelaw Reid, Thomas Taggart, William Dean Howells, Col. Coates Kinney, Senator Plum, Thomas Barlow, Walker Simeon D. Fess, John Little, Dr. Moorehead, Wilbur D. Nesbit and Fred C. Kelly. He introduced first John W. Prugh, of this city, who is head of the state department which controls building and loans.

Mr. Prugh spoke briefly, congratulating the fish and game association on its banquet and on the presence of Governor Davis, and reviewing briefly the sporting history of the county.

L. F. Cleveland, president of the Greene County Fish and Game Protective Association, told in his own style, his story of the killing of "Jonathan," the name given the bigger

Lloyd George Sends Note
To Devalera To Clear Air

Tension Between Sinn Fein Factions Over Irish Peace Treaty at Fever Heat as Parliament Meets Again Friday To Discuss Matter.

Dublin, Dec. 15.—Premier Lloyd George has sent an important letter concerning the Irish peace treaty to Eamonn DeValera which is expected to clear the political atmosphere in Ireland materially, it was learned this afternoon.

Dublin, Dec. 15.—Tension between the Sinn Fein factions over the Irish peace treaty was at fever heat when Dail Eireann met again in secret session today to continue the deliberations broken off late last night.

Efforts to effect a compromise over the rival forces headed by Eamonn DeValera and Michael Collins apparently made little headway. DeValera won another "moral victory" when he succeeded in having today's session held in secret.

It is likely that an open session will be held tomorrow and that a vote upon the ratification of the peace settlement will take place before Saturday.

WAGE INCREASES OF
RAILROADS IS OVER
TWO BILLIONS, SAID

Railroad Indicate Rate Reduction in Ratio to Wage Cuts at Meeting

Washington, Dec. 15.—Eastern railroads laid bare their financial condition and the outlook for the immediate future today when the I. C. C. started a detailed examination of all of the railroad finances for the country. The figures presented by the eastern carrier will provide the foundation for the contention by all of the railroads later that rate revisions and reductions cannot be made in justice to them, only in the event that there is a corresponding reduction in wages and in other operating expenses, E. Shriver, vice president in charge of accounts of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, appeared as spokesman for the eastern roads. In addition to presenting the data and statistics for them, Shriver gave many of the essential facts for the railroads for the country as a whole and laid the foundation for the general attack on operating costs and wage scales.

The railroad spokesmen have intimated that they are favorable to rate reductions, but only in the event that wages and scales and other operating expenses are reduced at the same time.

The keynote of the attack of the carriers on the wage structure was sounded by Howard Elliott, chairman of the board of the Northern Pacific railroad. He asserted that a sound policy with the labor leaders would seem to admit that deflation must come and allow lower wage scales on the roads in the mines, in the building trades, all of which means greater employment of men and a lower unit price on many articles and commodities used by all, thus reducing the cost of living and helping to break the present endless chain of expense.

The increases in wages paid to the employees in the last three years amounting to $2,250,000,000 is to be a point of attack.

At the two sessions of Dail Eireann on Wednesday DeValera led his fight in person. While Collins, Griffith and the bulk of the Irish republican army chiefs favor ratification, leadership of the pro-treaty faction was taken by Collins.

It was evident today that a bitter political feud is brewing between DeValera and Collins.

HOUSE OF COMMONS ASKED TO RATIFY IRISH
PEACE TREATY IN ITS ORIGINAL FORM TODAY

Col. John Gretton, Coalition Unionist Member, Expected To Ask for Vote of Censure of Lloyd-George's Policy—Galleries Are Filled.

London, Dec. 15.—Premier Lloyd George asked the house of commons today to ratify the Irish peace treaty in its original form without attempting any amendments.

In reply to questions the premier said: "Parliament has the power to change the treaty, but alterations would destroy the pact and necessitate the reopening of negotiations. This would involve risk."

London, Dec. 15.—Premier Lloyd George had a new fight on his hands when the house of commons convened today to continue discussion of the Irish peace treaty. Announcement had been made by Col. John Gretton, a coalition unionist member, that he would move a vote of

IRISH PEACE PACT

Sir James Craig Says Treaty is Illegal and Against Liberty

Belfast, Dec. 15.—A blistering attack against the Irish peace treaty which is called illegal and antagonistic to liberty is contained in a letter from Sir James Craig to Premier Lloyd George made public today. The letter is in response to a communication from Premier Lloyd George to Sir James Craig on Dec. 5, inviting Ulster to enter the Irish free state.

Sir James branded the treaty as opposed to Premier Lloyd George's pledges, "antagonistic to the British empire and the principles of liberty" and a complete reversal of British cabinet policy.

The Ulster leader said he feared tariff wars as a result of the pact. "Ulster notes with grave concern an Irish agreement without consultation," said the letter. "Ulster protests against boundary revision. It is unprecedented in the history of the empire to take territory from an established government without its sanction. Moreover it is a branch of the 1920 government of Ireland act."

AGREEMENT FINALLY REACHED ON NAVAL RATIO BETWEEN THREE POWERS OF PACIFIC

Only Matter of Hours Until Plenary Session is Called To Publicly Announce Terms Reached By Disarmament Conference—Realignment of Ships of U. S. England and Japan Has Been Made.

Washington, Dec. 15.—The "big three" of the armament conference—Hughes, Balfour and Kato—have reached a complete agreement on the all-important question of naval ratio and it is now only a matter of hours and details until a plenary session is called to publicly announce the details.

The 5-5-3 ratio stands, as originally proposed but there has been a realignment of the ships that will comprise the navies of the great powers. The exact shifts that have been agreed upon have not been officially made known but it is accepted that Japan has won her unremitting fight to retain the battleship Musu, and the United States and Great Britain will retain commensurate new tonnage to offset this concession. The changes agreed upon however, do not affect the basic ratio of 5-5-3.

A call for a plenary session may be forthcoming today. The big three labored far into the night last night on adjusting the details of the new agreement and made good progress.

Secretary of State Hughes wants to delay the announcement until there is full and complete agreement down to the last detail so that the whole controversial question can be cleared up at one sitting.

While the character of the other changes agreed upon are withheld for the time being, it is believed that announcement of the settlement of the naval ratio will be coupled with a statement of policy concerning Pacific fortifications.

There may also be some slight modifications of the replacement program originally suggested. Both Great Britain and Japan would welcome modification in this respect in order to insure the continued operation of their shipyards and the employment of thousands of workmen. The expectation prevails that a

ARMED TROOPS
READY TO HALT
AMAZON FORCES

Army of Women Storming Mines of Kansas Stopped Temporarily.

Girard, Kas., Dec. 15.—The "amazon army" of the striking Kansas miners began gathering this morning, in the vicinity of Cherokee, according to reports received by Sheriff Milt Gould here. Deputies and a small detachment of cavalry were being rushed to the scene. The women were reported peaceful and no offensive movement had been attempted.

Pittsburg, Kas., Dec. 15.—Armed troops were waiting the command to ride against the "amazon army" in the coal fields at dawn today.

Three units of militia are encamped at Girard and Franklin, the northern hubs of the riot district. The drive of the "petticoat brigades" which swept over the coal fields for three days terrorizing working miners stripping them of their clothing in hand to hand fighting and routing deputies of Sheriff Milt Gould with barages of pepper, appeared to be halted temporarily.

"Recruiting sergeants" of the amazon forces were making the rounds of the little mining towns of Arma, Franklin, Fronenac, Cherokee, Chicopee and Mulberry.

The official communique of the army revealed that the next offensive of the marching wives, mothers and sweethearts of the followers of Alexander Howat would not be staged until next week.

Women "generals" said all mines in the district were shut down and there was no further need of a drive until attempts were made to open.

Milt Gould, Crawford county sheriff, declared that three mines, the Sheridan shafts No. 9 and 19, and the Klements No. 21, were operating under protection of the troops.

Gould was in the field at the head of seventeen deputies throughout the night. A mob of several hundred men formed south of Franklin, on the Pittsburg road, declaring they were going to Columbus, Kas., to take Howat from the county jail there.

Gould appealed to the men to return to their homes and succeeded in dispersing the men.

Another mob, avowing its intentions of running Van A. Bitner, representative of John Lewis, from the coal fields, was dispersed by Gould.

of the two deer brought back by Mr. Cleveland from the Maine woods, to provide the banquet Wednesday evening. Mr. Cleveland gave a thrilling account of the trail of the big buck through 36 inches of snow, and said that the buck, weighing 254 pounds, was the largest he had ever seen killed.

Following the address of Governor Davis, R. Hayes Hamilton, of this city, creator of the Hamilton travelogue, presented motion pictures of the Canadian Rockies, showing the mountain marmot at close view, and scenes loved by the hunter. The Rev. V. F. Brown, pastor of Trinity M. E. Church delivered the invocation preceding the venison banquet. Toastmaster Rice read a telegram from James W. Faulkner, of the Columbus news bureau of the Cincinnati Enquirer, in which he regretted his inability to attend and wished the meeting success.

The Rink was prettily decorated for the occasion and the guests were seated at six long tables. The 30-piece band from the O. S. & S. O. Home Band, alternated with the Central High School Orchestra in furnishing music of the evening and played "America" as the Governor and his party entered. Miss Dorothy Clark and Miss Helen Hurley sang a duet "Beautiful Ohio," while the dinner was being served.

The banquet is said to be the largest ever held in Greene county, and was the result of a scheme evolved by President Cleveland on his election last year and promise to furnish venison for the affair, and the hard work and co-operation of officers of the Association and members of entertainment committee, headed by Mel Smith.

OLD FASHIONED REMEDY IN NEW SCIENTIFIC FORM

Remember how grandma used to cure colds? She made a thick concoction of menthol, camphor, turpentine and such things and rubbed it most all over you. Was sort of smeary and it greased up your clothing pretty much, but it sure did the work.

Nash's Croup-Pneumonia Salve is made on the same principle and contains all of grandma's pet cold killers. It is a scientific combination of Menthol, Camphor, Oils of Pine, Sassafras, Thyme and Eucalyptus in a base of fine quality petrolatum. Though stronger than the old-fashioned remedy it is really pleasant to use and will not stain or soil the clothing.

Used for colds, coughs, croup, asthma, bronchitis and kidney ailments this salve simply works wonders. Applied in each nostril it creates a vapor that clears the head almost instantly at the same time soothing and healing the inflamed membranes of nasal passages.

Nash's Salve is also a powerful penetrant. Rubbed liberally upon throat and chest it loosens deep-seated cough or cold in one night, placing the patient in the convalescent class in a few hours.

Druggists sell it and speak of Nash's Salve as "that stronger kind." Get a bottle today. 30 and 60-cent sizes, use it for your cold and see how fine it is. Get at D. D. Jones' or your favorite drug store.

QUIETLY MARRIED IN THIS CITY

Miss Vesta Stotlar and Mr. Lawrence J. Prump, both of Bowersville, were quietly united in marriage, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Harry Nagley, on East Market street, this city, Thursday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock, the Rev. Spencer Smith, pastor of the Church of Christ, of Bowersville, officiating.

The only witness to the ceremony were the parents of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. Stotlar, Mr. and Mrs. Nagley, and Mrs. Nagley's mother, Mrs. J. B. Gordon. The bride was attired in white for the ceremony, and wore a corsage of roses.

Both are well known young people of the vicinity of Bowersville. They will reside on the bridegroom's parents farm, near Bloomingsburg.

UNITED IN MARRIAGE AT PARSONAGE WEDNESDAY

Mr. William C. Plummer, of this city, and Mrs. Alma M. Gottschick, of Dayton, were united in marriage at the parsonage of the First Baptist church, this city, the Rev. Albert Reed, officiating, Wednesday evening. The impressive ring ceremony was used. The couple was unattended. They will make their home on East Second Street, this city.

D. A. R. TO LUNCH AT ELK'S CLUB FRIDAY.

Members of Catherine Greene Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution, and their invited guests, will be entertained at the first formal social meeting, of the organization for the season, at a one o'clock luncheon at the Elk's Club Friday.

Preparations for the affair are being completed, and a most delightful meeting is being looked forward to. Mrs. J. B. Foraker, of Cincinnati, will be the principal speaker on the program. The committee in charge of the function is composed of Mrs. H. S. LeSourd, Mrs. C. L. Darlington, and Mrs. J. A. Chew.

The program will also include a short talk by Mrs. A. C. Messenger, State Chairman of the Caroline Scott Harrison Memorial Association and Mrs. W. H. McGervey, State Secretary, will sing two songs, "My Little House", and "The Old Road." The meeting is held on the 27th anniversary of the chapter, and is also the anniversary of the famous Boston Tea Party. Mrs. William M. Wilson, State Regent of the D. A. R., is out of the city, and will be unable to be present at the meeting.

MARRIAGE ANNOUNCEMENT OF INTEREST BEING MADE.

The following announcement will be received with interest, by friends and relatives in this city:

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Lindamood announce the marriage of their daughter

Edna Irene to Mr. Howard William Guenther on December 15, nineteen hundred and twenty-one.

Mrs. Guenther is well known in the vicinity of Waynesville, where she resided with her parents. Mr. Guenther is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Guenther, of near Bellbrook, and is a prominent young farmer. Their marriage was solemnized at Beavertown, Thursday morning at 7:30 o'clock, by the Rev. R. K. Miller. They will reside on the bridegroom's father's farm, near Bellbrook.

FRANCE SEES FOUR-POWER PACT AS THE END OF U. S. ISOLATION.

While the part France is to play in the quadruple Entente is understood to be a minor role in relation to that of England and Japan, the plan, nevertheless, has won full approval and in all quarters it is regarded as the first great step which American diplomacy has taken in breaking away from the traditional policy of isolation and freedom from foreign entanglements and, consequently, is a welcome one.

French opinion, slow to grasp the full meaning of Secretary Hughes' proposal, was at first somewhat skeptical about the prospects of the extension of English privilege to other parts of the world within the scope of the Pacific question. After the break up of the Anglo-Japanese alliance there was even talk at Paris of a triple alliance with the United States, Japan and England, with the exclusion of France. Thus it seems that France enters as the fourth party in a willing, though cautious, frame of mind.

The Pacific agreement is significant of great promise. Prudently and with all the discretion and limitations possible to such agreements, the United States is entering a political combination which is "super-American" and, consequently, departs from her systematic isolation. This movement is restrained in measure, but nevertheless it is certain. It is an interesting beginning of a more or less significant exception which we shall learn to appreciate later.

"Thanks to this treaty," the Temps says: "France has the assurance of being consulted if any great international problem arises concerning the Pacific. Never since the summer of 1918, when American soldiers landed on French soil, has the prestige of the United States been so great. President Harding and Secretary of State Hughes have a right to repeat what M. Viviani said at Washington: 'This Conference has fully succeeded.'"

USE OF WARSHIPS AS LINERS PLANNED.

While the foreshadowed acceptance by Japan of the "five-five-three" naval ratio, cornerstone of the American naval limitation plan, will leave much to be decided, it does not follow, in the opinion of American Conference officials, that the Conference itself will have to pass on all that must be done.

It is held the Conference could well leave some of those points to expert discussion and final settlement through ordinary diplomatic channels.

A particular point in the latter class is the method to be followed in scrapping capital ships. That necessarily involves such disposition of the vessels as will make them impossible of ready reconversion into warcraft. Yet there will be a strong tendency to salvage whatever can be saved for ordinary commercial or other purely non-combatant use.

Already it has been suggested that three of the six American battle cruisers could be made over into safe, fast passenger liners, a type of merchantman lacking in the present American commercial fleet. The three ships under consideration have been completed up to the waterline. At that point, naval experts figure, it would be possible to continue construction so as to produce a purely passenger vessel instead of a potential cruiser. Change would be necessary so that the vessel never could be restored to war purposes, except to the extent that any other commercial ship might be used as an auxiliary for war.

The same thing is said to apply to battleships. There is a possibility that those not too far advanced in construction could be changed into intermediate freight and passenger ships, but naval experts have not gone far enough to determine if that is a practicable and economical suggestion.

THE FIRST GREAT FRUITS.

The Conference on the Limitation of Armament and Pacific and Far Eastern Questions has justified its existence and met one of the great and high hopes of its friends. Should the Conference adjourn without a single accomplishment other than the four-Power, ten-year Pacific treaty, it would not have been in vain.

The text of the four-Power treaty contains exactly 401 words and is one of the shortest in history, but its language is so clear, its intent so plain and its spirit so firm and direct, that no man or nation need mistake its meaning.

It shatters the Anglo-Japanese Alliance, a military agreement, and replaces it with a non-military contract of national and international self-defense. In ending the Anglo-Japanese Alliance one of the great aims of the United States has been achieved.

At the same time, the four-Power treaty withers for ten years, and it may be for generations, the seeds of war that were sprouting that oft-predicted War of the Pacific. Those seeds were there, scattered through islands, fortified and unfortified, on lonely atolls and coral reefs. With the ratification of the four-Power treaty they will disappear.

The massed opinion of a world that is weary of warfare will sustain and uphold it. As they read it the people of America will ratify it. Great Britain welcomes it and so does France and so will Japan. As a league-long move in the direction of an enduring peace, the world will approve it.

We have gathered the first great fruits of a great Conference. Greater fruits will come.

RIPPLING RHYMES THE SAFE SIDE.

"The time has come," said Colonel Hays, "when patience halts and fails, and we shall shoot all located jays who try to rob the mails. Too long, too long have graceless scamps defied me to my face, and they have stolen postage stamps until it's a disgrace. And now at last they've spilled the beans, they've shocked the voters' souls, and I have drafted the marines to shoot them full of holes. The ocean soldiers are on guard, no more shall bandits scoff, and he who steals a postal card will have his home blown off." The postman comes to my abode, and tired and sore he feels, for he has dragged along the road a culverin on wheels. And he is loaded down with guns till life seems flat and stale, for he must guard the precious duns that come to me by mail. A sawed-off shotgun on his back, and all equipped to kill, he thus delivers at my shack the tailor's dog-eared bill. With his brass knucks and lance and gun he leaves his smoke behind, and he looks like a war lord Hun who has "Der Tag" in mind. Now peace enshrouds my wintry dome and comfort fills my soul, for I can mail a priceless pome, and feel 'twill reach its goal. And when the grocer sends his bill with threat of law and jail, 'twill reach my cottage on the hill, since gunmen guard the mail.

JUST A MINUTE BROTHER, HAVN'T YOU OVERLOOKED SOMETHING?

HENRY CLEWS

Weekly Financial Review

New York, December 13, 1921. Events during the past week, both nationally and internationally speaking, have been first class importance, not only from their political, but from their general economic point of view. The settlement of the Irish question, the partial agreement to readjust the German reparations plan, the approach of the Arms Conference to a settlement of some at least of the issues by which it has been confronted, and the President's outspoken and constructive position on important business questions in his message to Congress have all furnished helpful factors which have tended to stabilize business and investments.

Taxation and Public Finance

The report of Secretary of the Treasury Mellon, taken in conjunction with the more guarded language used by President Harding seems to make it clear that in the comparatively early future further revision of the tax laws will be demanded. The Secretary of the Treasury forcefully calls attention to the harm wrought by present surtax rates and by other phases of existing taxation, and puts to flight the idea that these measures can be considered as weighing with special force upon the wealthier elements in the population. They in fact work against the average man far more strongly than they do against the person upon whom they are technically levied. There is no assurance as to when Congress will be induced to revise its work upon this score, but such action cannot be indefinitely delayed. As to the President's proposals respecting the suspension of the issue of tax exempt bonds, they are in line with the policy already favored by careful students of the situation. Their influence is undoubtedly toward the raising of the values of outstanding Liberty bonds, although it must of course be in any case a good while before a constitutional amendment of the kind advocated by the President could be adopted and it may be doubted whether the right of the Federal government to tax municipal and local securities will ever be sanctioned. Secretary Mellon's demands for economical and careful management also point to a better state of things in national finance, while the budget message which President Harding has submitted to Congress indicates that decided progress has already been made toward a reduction of outlay, and gives promise of still stronger conditions.

Economic Policies and the Market

The President's announcement that he intends to bring forward a vigorous plan for the encouragement of the Merchant Marine has undoubtedly had its effect upon such stocks as International Mercantile Marine and other shipping issues. Postponement of the Railroad Funding bill, which has evidently become necessary, has been regrettable from the standpoint of the roads and the holders of their securities, but this does not mean that its adoption is impossible. A first quarterly declaration of dividends by the Hill roads is further evidence of the confidence felt by railroad managers in the improving character of the outlook—a confidence which is apparently warranted by the 22 per cent improvement in net railroad income over the same month last year, amounting to $105,000,000, which is now definitely shown in the final October figures. Meantime the headier reception of bonds and other securities indicates that the credit of the lines is distinctly on the mending hand. Secretary Mellon's report points to the probability of early Government financing on a large scale in the early future, and this, as well as other factors, has naturally tended to improve the quotation of Federal issues.

Market Review and Outlook

On the whole, the tone of the market is growing increasingly hopeful. Nearly all industrial news has of late been favorable. The share list has reached a point which permits some fluctuation, but there is no reason for believing that its upward movement has been stopped. Such irregularity as has occurred seems to be due to the desire of traders in some stocks to take profits. More interest is being taken by the general public, who evince a willingness to purchase stocks, especially in the dividend class, whenever they sell off a little. Good reason for this disposition is found in the comparative ease of the money market and the optimistic utterances regarding future business by various authorities, the latest being from Governor Harding of the Federal Reserve Board, who points out that business conditions are not only very much better than were a year ago, but there is good reason for believing that we are in for greater prosperity than we have ever had before.

DOROTHY M'DONALD CURED OF ASTHMA BY KERKER REMEDY

Manager of Zanesville Bargain Shoe Store Tells of Daughter's Case

"My little girl Dorothy no longer has the asthma, and I have Kerker's Asthma and Hay Fever preparation to thank for it." Is the joyful statement made by C. E. McDonald, 236 Prospect avenue, Zanesville, and manager on the Zanesville Bargain Shoe Store. "Dorothy, who is only four years old, had a bad case of asthma for two years. She was greatly affected by damp weather; mucous would gather in her throat, her sleep was disturbed, her chest and neck would swell and exertion caused her to wheeze," continued Mr. McDonald. "She took several bottles of Kerker's Asthma and Hay Fever preparation and it has effected a cure, for which I would not begrudge a great deal of money."

Kerker's Asthma and Hay Fever Remedy is sold in Xenia by Sayre & Hemphill Pharmacy.

No More Stomach Bloating

If your stomach is continually kicking up a disturbance; if you feel bloated and distressed; if you belch gas and sour food into the mouth then you need M-I-O-Na Stomach Tablets. Guaranteed by Sayre & Hemphill.

BEAUTY CHATS

FOOT TREATMENTS

I have told before in this space the story of the woman who has her toenails rouged and polished with a buffer every day. I think it is not at all a bad idea for a woman who has plenty of money and nothing in the world to do, except to make herself as beautiful as possible.

Unfortunately few of us have time enough for such luxury. Yet we should all keep our feet as healthy as possible simply because we will gain that much more in comfort and efficiency. It need not take a great deal of time.

If the feet are very tired or if they are inclined to be tender, give them a daily bath by soaking them in hot salt water. If there is any tendency toward an unpleasant odor, they require a special treatment which will be talked about another time. If there is any tendency towards callouses or corns, it will pay you to buy a good quality corn knife, and to learn the proper way to use it. You can even make use of the little safety razor blades if you are careful how you handle them.

After the feet have been soaked, preferably after you have had your bath, go over them with a knife and take off the tough yellow skin which, if neglected, will form a permanent corn. You must be very careful, for you will hurt yourself if you cut live skin and poison yourself if a cut is neglected. If you are afraid to use a corn knife, use a strip of sand paper or emery paper instead. Keep the nails cut straight across and fairly short by using sharp scissors, and clean them underneath and around the edges.

M. C.—If you are anywhere near 30 years of age, your weight is about 40 pounds too much. No wonder your stomach and hips are too large. Take bending exercises and rolling. Reduce by dieting. If you want my reduction tables send me a letter with a self-addressed stamped envelope.

Anxious—Your description of the tender bleeding gums seems to me to be a perfect description of pyorrhea. This is caused by tartar getting against and under the gum, where it irritates, making the gum sensitive. Sometimes it makes little puss pockets and eventually the gums shrink. A good dentist will clean the teeth getting his instrument under the edge of the gum and removing all this hard irritating tartar. Many dentists neglect this sort of fundamental work which is one reason why pyorrhea is so common. Frankly, I would advise you to see another dentist at once and have your teeth cleaned properly. Otherwise, you may lose them, and you are far too young for anything like that.

M. L. C.—A girl, 19 years old, should weigh about 115 pounds, but the exact weight depends on her age. Try olive oil and grape juice to get fat.

MURDERED MAN IS IDENTIFIED

Washington, C. H. Dec. 14.—The body of a man who officers say had been murdered and which was found near Portsmouth recently, has been identified by a woman who claims that his name was John Holloway and that he lived at Coles Branch near Greenup, Ky., a town about 19 miles from Portsmouth.

There was much local interest in the finding of the body in that there was a copy of a Washington C. H. newspaper in the band of the murdered man's hat.

XENIA TIGERS ARE VICTORIOUS

The Xenia Tigers defeated the Xenia Victors Tuesday night by the score of 12 to 8, in the opening game of the season for the Tigers. The Tigers lined up with Tolin and Shoemaker at the forwards. Chambliss at center and Grimes and Oron at the guards. They are out for the city championship in their class.

BROWN DON'T AGREE WITH PRESENT DAY JAZZ MUSIC HE SAYS

Clarence J. Brown, Lieutenant Governor of Ohio, and Blanche newspaper man who delivered an address at the Opera House, Tuesday night, is antagonistic to jazz music.

This feeling developed at the meeting Tuesday when the Lieutenant Governor complimented the Greene County High School orchestra on its repertoire and said that the occasion was the first time in this state that he had heard a musical organization composed of as many people as the local orchestra deliver a concert which was entirely devoid of the so-called jazz.

Mr. Brown said the fact recalled to him an incident which happened at an affair given in the northern part of this state in honor of a Democratic Senator from the sunny Southland. The orchestra, present playing jazz music throughout the evening, until at the request of the committee, the orchestra played several of the popular old-time Southern airs in deference to the honor guest.

It was while the Democratic Senator was standing at attention during the rendering of the strains of "Dixie" that he noticed a man sitting on a chair in front of him, seemingly shaken with emotion and weeping bitter tears.

"Ah," said the Senator to himself, "Here is a fellow Southerner I will speak to him."

Advancing to the man in tears, he laid his hand on his shoulder, and said, "Judging from your emotions at this music, sir, I feel certain that you too, hail from the beautiful, sunny Southland. Perhaps the strains of this charming melody recall to you the moon shining on the fields of cotton and youthful days spent below the Mason-Dixie line. May I inquire what part of the South you are from?"

The stranger stopped his sobbing and looked up. "Mister," he said, with a catch in his voice, "I ain't no Southerner. But, hell, I'm a musician."

TWENTY FIVE ARE BURIED IN SLIDE

Washington, Dec. 14.—Effective food relief in Russia must be administered by congressional action, Secretary Hoover declared to the House foreign affairs committee yesterday in asking for an appropriation of $20,000,000 for the purchase of food supplies for starving Russians. The question could not be solved by public charity, he added, explaining that voluntary contributions to Russian relief work since August had not amounted to $500,000.

Insuring the purchase of twice the amount of grain recommended last week by President Harding in his message to Congress and as called for in the Fordney bill to appropriate $10,000,000 for the purchase of 10,000,000 bushels of corn and 1,000,000 bushels of seed grain. Mr. Hoover said that the situation required it. The supplies contemplated in the Fordney bill, he declared, were inadequate. In addition to the grain, he said, 500,000 cases of condensed milk should be sent to Russia for 3,500,000 starving children.

James P. Goodrich, former governor of Indiana, and Vernon Kellogg of Washington, both of whom recently returned from Russia, where they studied the famine situation for the American relief Administration, joined in urging that a $20,000,000 appropriation be rushed through Congress.

ANOTHER PLEA IS MADE FOR FREEDOM

Washington, Dec. 14.—The four-power Pacific treaty was today made the basis of a new plea for independence for the Philippines in a letter presented to the president by the Philippine resident commissioners, Jaime C. De Valera and Isidro Cabaldon.

The plea for independence, made by the commissioners, declared that in the past the principal objection to independence for the Philippines has been that such action might make way for Japanese aggression in the islands. It was declared that under the terms of the four power pact treaty such aggression would be impossible and that therefore the great objection to independence is wiped out and the Philippine people are anxious that the administration take quick action to grant them entire governmental freedom.

K. K. K. ANGLE IS ADDED TO KILLING

Pittsburgh, Pa., Dec. 14.—A Ku Klux Klan angle added further mystery today to the strange shooting and killing Monday night of Leroy Holmes Morris, federal vocational teacher. Morris was shot to death in an Allegheny park. The police claim they found a Ku Klux Klan application in the dead man's pockets. A "want ad" inserted in a morning newspaper offers $100 reward for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the slayers of Morris. Those having any information are directed to address N. Y. Clarke, Klan leader at Atlanta. Three suspects are now under arrest for the Morris murder. They are Claude Criter, 34, and Paul Vlar, 28, of Lynchburg, Va., and Win B. Kennedy, of Pittsburgh.

THREE ARE 'WONDEUD'
Belfast, Dec. 11.—Three persons were wounded, two probably fatally, in an outbreak of violence here early today.

SLAYER GUILTY; TO BE ELECTROCUTED

Cleveland, Dec. 14.—Dominic Benigno, alleged slayer of Wilfred C. Sly and George K. Fanner in a payroll robbery on Dec. 31 last, was today found guilty of murder in the first degree and sentenced to death. Benigno is the third member of a gang of six to be given the death penalty. Frank Motto has already been electrocuted while Sam Purpera is awaiting death at the Ohio penitentiary.

MARSHAL FOCH SAILS FOR NATIVE LAND

New York, Dec. 14.—Marshal Foch last night completed his conquest of America and today sailed back to France bearing the gifts of a grateful ally in a world war.

Accompanied here by tens of thousands when he first set foot on the new world on Oct. 28, the generalissimo was acclaimed again after he had completed a triumphal tour of the United States and Canada as the guest of the American Legion.

New York was jealous of every remaining moment of the hero's visit. Not a second of rest was allowed him from the moment he arrived at the Grand Central Station on his return from Montreal, until he turned into bed after a series of concluding fetes.

BRITISH PARLIAMENT MEETS WEDNESDAY

London, Dec. 14.—"It is my earnest hope that, by the articles of agreement now submitted to you, the strife of centuries may be ended and that Ireland, as a free partner in the commonwealth of nations, forming the British empire, will secure the fulfillment of her national ideals," said King George in opening today the extraordinary session of parliament which was convened to consider the Irish peace treaty.

REPORTS LOSS OF POCKETBOOK

Mrs. Lillie Baumaster, of Wilmington reported to Clinton county authorities Tuesday the loss of her pocketbook which disappeared while she was returning from this city to Wilmington in an auto bus. Suspicion has been directed toward an unknown woman who was also a passenger in the bus.

STATE SPORTSMEN'S BANQUET WILL BE HELD JANUARY 13

Columbus, Dec. 15.—Friday January 13th is the date set for the state sportsmen's convention and banquet at Hotel Deshler, Columbus. Fish and Game Protective Associations in every county in Ohio will be invited to send delegates, and a meeting of the League of Ohio Sportsmen will be held at the same time. Invitations will be sent out over the state by A. C. Baxter, chief of the Division of Fish and Game within the next few days.

Discussions will be conducted on various phases of the work of fish and game conservation in Ohio, and a big push started in the "More Fish—More Game—More Sport—More Food" movement inaugurated by the Division of Fish and Game. George A. Lawyer, Chief U. S. Game Warden from Washington will address the sportsmen, and another leading game conservationist on the program will be the Rev. Noel J. Allen of Virginia.

Ohio sportsmen will present a solid front in favor of a fifty cent angler's license and in favor of the Free Shooting Ground Game Refuge policy of the Division of Fish and Game, according to I. S. Myers, president of the League of Ohio Sportsmen. "Cy Garton" the famous story teller from Gaton Rocks will be present with his famous houn' dawg.

WILL GIVE THIRD NUMBER OF COURSE

The third number of the lecture course given under the auspices of the New Burlington Community Club, will be given December 21, when Dr. Byron W. King, prominent lecturer and interpreter of English will appear.

The lecture course has engaged the interest of the community and the coming program is looked forward to as Dr. King is recognized as a lecturer of note. Season tickets are being sold by the club members, the single admission being 50 cents.

HIS REINSTATEMENT WILL BE RESISTED

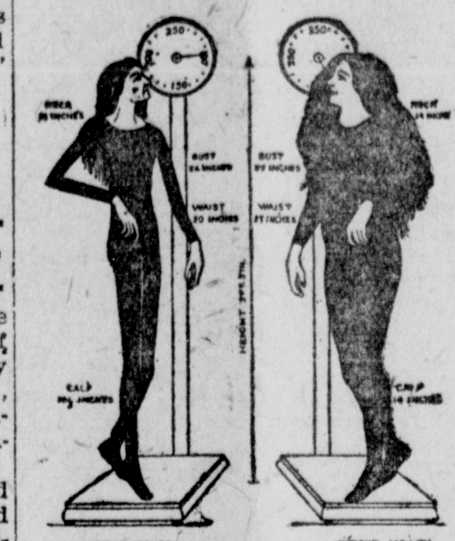

Dayton, Dec. 15.—Reinstatement of Clifford Bennett, discharged engineer of the Dayton city water works will be resisted by City Manager Eichelberger, who avers that the dismissed employe was careless and inefficient.

The civil service board of the city, has ordered Bennett to be reinstated January 1. "I do not believe the board is justified in reinstating Bennett after finding him guilty," said Mr. Eichelberger.

TO STOP COUGHING AT NIGHT

When anyone is suffering from a bronchial affliction or has a cough that lingers on and grows worse at night, the loss of sleep tends to weaken the sufferer and grows more serious the longer it is neglected. Mrs. M. Suter, 647 Longbrook Ave., Stratford, Conn., writes: "Foley's Honey and Tar has given me great relief from a severe attack of bronchitis." No medicine stands higher throughout the nation as a family remedy for colds, coughs and croup. Sayre & Hemphill.

Ohio Federation of Women's Clubs

By Mrs. George Elliott McCormick.

Subjects outlined for discussion by Mrs. Paul Frank Crestline chairman of the Ohio Federation's thrift committee, for "National Thrift" week which will be observed from January 17 to 23 are:

"Budget System in the Home," "Life Insurance," "Own your Own Home," "Make a Will," "Saving for the Rainy Day."

Each club's roll call that week should embody something pertinent to these subjects.

As "National Thrift" week is observed at the same time every year, it has been suggested that note be taken of it now and start building a program for next year that will reflect mature study and preparation.

Thoughts of Christmas

Approaching rapidly Christmas brings with it many reports of good work being accomplished throughout the state by busy club women. Miss Dora F. Ensign, child welfare department chairman of the Woman's Civic club at Elyria, contributes a suggestion that may not yet be too late to take advantage of by clubs that want to do something at this season and have not yet hit upon a satisfactory plan.

At Elyria a benefit picture show was given by the child-welfare department of the Civic club. The picture house manager donated a film of special interest to children, presenting two shows in the morning, one at 10 and one at 11 o'clock. At both performances there were packed houses all the children being properly chaperoned by members of the Civic club's child-welfare department. And what do you suppose the price of admission was? Well, it was either a used toy, or a book, or two apples or two potatoes, etc. Many children came with a basket filled with a variety of eatables. All of these were turned over to the Salvation Army for distribution among the poor and it took two big trucks to carry them away from the theater.

Included in the lot were 15 bushels of potatoes, nine bushels of apples, hundreds of toys and books and canned fruit and vegetables.

"We felt that we had accomplished a two fold purpose," writes Miss Ensign. "We had given over a thousand children a children's show and had made glad many a desolate home."

At Eaton Unity club members are making dolls and preparing for their annual Christmas party to which 150 have been invited.

The Eaton Council of Mothers has made arrangements for another Christmas tree to be placed on the public square. Community singing and other program features are planned for children for the holiday week by the president, Mrs. Marris Parker.

OHIO FEDERATION NOTES

At the fall luncheon of the Woman's Civic club at Elyria reservations were made for 223, including guests. A committee from the department of art and literature served a two-course menu, the proceeds of which were turned over to the club home fund. Following the luncheon the meeting was thrown open to the public and 500 attended. Miss Margaret Stahl pleased with an interpretation of J. Hardy Manners's "Happiness." The Woman's Civic club now has a membership of 282, this year new members numbering 20. Mrs. J. H. Hurst is the new president. The department of education has two girls in college, their education being paid for out of a five scholarship fund which amounts to $1,760.

The Preble County Federation of Women's Clubs has fitted out the public health nurse at Eaton with a complete loan closet.

MAN WANTED HERE TAKEN INTO CUSTODY

Deputy Sheriff Joseph Day, went to Cincinnati, Thursday, to take into custody, Clarence King, colored ex-soldier of this city wanted here on a charge of converting the property of another to his own use.

King it is alleged, borrowed a battery from Oscar Pigeon, and later sold it, appropriating the money. He was arrested on complaint of Pigeon and promised to pay for the battery as soon as he received his compensation check from the government. Instead of securing his check from the Greene County chapter of the Red Cross, it is said, he went to Dayton, where he was given his compensation, and then on to Cincinnati to join his wife. He was located by Sheriff Fung, derburgh through the Red Cross and police in Cincinnati arrested him there Wednesday.

King is living in this city, and is said to receive compensation amounting to $155 a month from the government for disability.

LITTLE CHILD DIES WEDNESDAY NIGHT

Little Mary Margaret Lang, five year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Lang, of Pleasant street, died Wednesday night at 11:15 o'clock.

The little child had been suffering from diphtheria, but was recovered from the disease, and the quarantine had been lifted a week ago. However, she contracted paralysis of the heart, as a result of the malady, and this caused her death.

The bright little girl was born March 10, 1916, and was the only child in the family, her death prostrating her parents with grief. The time of the funeral arrangements has not been set, but the services will be held Saturday.

FERGUSON-HYLSOP NUPITALS SOLEMNIZED

On Monday afternoon, December 12, at 3 o'clock in New York City, Miss Henrietta M. Hyslop was married to Mr. David Walter Ferguson of the Clifton pike, near Xenia. The ceremony, which was exceptionally beautiful and impressive, was performed by the bride's pastor, the Rev. John Kelman, D. D., pastor of the Fifth Avenue Presbyterian Church.

The home where the bride has resided with her nieces the Misses Winifred and Beatrice Hyslop, at 414 West 120th Street, was tastefully decorated with laurel, holly, ground-pine and mistletoe.

The bride was becomingly gowned in a delicate perrywinkle blue crepe-de-chine and was attended by Miss Winifred Hyslop, a graduate of Mount Holyoke College.

Mrs. Ferguson, who is the daughter of the late Robert Hyslop, formerly of Xenia, is a graduate of Indiana University, and has been for the past five years Assistant Editor of the Missionary Review of the World, the well-known interdenominational and missionary monthly of which Dr. Robert E. Speer is President.

The bridegroom, who is a well known farmer of this vicinity was attended by his son, Warren Ferguson, a law student at Yale University.

Miss Ethel M. Gould, before the wedding ceremony, beautifully rendered a solo, "I Love You Truly," by Carrie Jacobs Bond.

After a very delightful and informal wedding supper, the bride and bridegroom departed on their wedding trip in clear weather, and with a shower of good wishes and benedictions.

The company of friends who witnessed the wedding ceremony included a brother of the bride, Mr. Francis E. Hyslop, and Mrs. Hyslop of Hadonfield, New Jersey; Dr. Robert Wells Veatch, a clergyman of Ridgewood, New Jersey; Prof. Fulton Ferguson, Secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, New Haven, Connecticut, & Hemphill.

ANSWER THESE QUESTIONS

Question—When I have pains around the heart, killing headaches, sour, gassy, bloated stomach, bilious constipated bowels, what will give me quick relief?

Answer—Bulgarian Blood Tea.

Question—When I catch cold I know there is danger of it drifting down into the chest and lungs, what should I do to help break it up quickly, and guard against influenza, Grippe or Pneumonia?

Answer—Take a steaming hot cup of Bulgarian Blood Tea at bedtime—add a little lemon juice, it works like magic. You will praise and recommend Bulgarian Blood Tea to every one. You will never be without it in your home. It costs but a small amount and your druggist will be glad to supply you.

MRS. DAVIS WEAK, NERVOUS RUN DOWN

Tells How Vinol Quickly Increased Her Strength And Weight

MANY SUCH CASES HERE

MRS. HAROLD DAVIS

Liberty Centre, Ind.—"I keep house for my family of three and was run-down, nervous, weak and exhausted, and it was hard for me to keep ground. I heard about Vinol through a friend and after taking it three days I began to feel better, and its continued use has built me up and brought me back to my normal weight."—Mrs. Harold Davis, Liberty Centre, Ind.

There is nothing that acts so quickly in such cases as Vinol. It makes red blood corpuscles, quickens the circulation, sharpens the appetite, removes sound sleep and imparts strength, vitality and energy.

WORK OF CHAPTER IN HOME SERVICE IS MADE PUBLIC

The work of the Home Service Section office of the Greene County Chapter of the Red Cross, was given by the Secretary, Miss Louise B. Shaffer, by means of a verbal report, and illustrated charts, at the annual meeting of the County Chapter, held at the Chamber of Commerce, Wednesday.

The work done for soldiers during the past year, and the need of the services at the present time, was clearly brought out by Miss Shaffer, who gave examples of the kind of services the Red Cross is able to render, by telling of requests which have come into the office within the past week.

Dr. Austin M. Patterson, Chairman of the Chapter, presided at the session. Thomas Reed, Lake Division representative, was present and gave a short address, commending the work of the local chapter, and discussed the present situation.

Miss Helen Evers, Red Cross Nurse read an annual report, of the nursing department, which showed that there were 537 cases during the year. Charts showing the results of the clinic were shown and explained.

According to the financial statement for the year, which was read by the Treasurer, Mrs. David Fitz, the balance December 1, 1920, was $4,190.85, while the balance December 1, 1921, is $2,858.08. Mrs. Amos E. Faulkner, who had done splendid work on the Fifth Roll Call Drive, this year, read her report to date, showing a balance of $1,993, while many parts of the county have not reported.

The constitution of the Chapter was modified, at the meeting Wednesday, when it was decided to increase the Executive Committee to 12 members, to include the officers. The twelve members elected from the floor were, Dr. Austin Patterson, W. L. Miller, Miss Louise Miller, Mrs. George Glass, Mrs. Cora Linton, S. C. Wright, Earl Littleton, Mrs. Milton McKay, W. O. C. Eustis, Dr. B. R. McClellan, W. A. E. Faulkner, and the Rev. W. A. E. Patterson, Mr. Miller, Mrs. McKay, Mr. Cusins and Dr. McClellan were previous members of the committee.

An interesting display of production work from Beaver Creek township, caused much comment. Some of the garments are to be sent to the children of Korea, the remainder to be used locally. Scrap books to be used in Christmas baskets for children and some for soldiers now in hospitals, were also displayed.

The charts and garments will be displayed in the city store windows within a few days.

Antioch College basketball team won the second game of its season at Kelly Gym Wednesday night, defeating Kenyon College, 45-20.

The visitors never had a chance with Coach Earl Prugh's quintett, the Yellow Springs five playing all around the visiting five throughout the pastime. M. Dawson, at left guard, starred for Antioch, and turned in eight field goals.

From the start at Yellow Springs Wednesday night, indications are that Kenyon will have a tough southern Ohio trip, meeting Wilmington Thursday night and the University of Dayton, Friday.

J. E. KOHL BUYS OUT PARTNER IN CONCERN

With the purchase of the interest of his partner, in the Xenia Vulcanizing Company, J. E. Kohl, of this city, is now sole owner of that concern.

Mr. Kohl bought out the interest of his partner, J. W. Knobloch, of Cincinnati, the transaction taking place recently. Mr. Kohl retains his interest with Mr. Knobloch in similar concerns operating in Dayton and Miamisburg.

RESIGNS POSITION AT CENTRAL HIGH

Carl E. Smith, who has been an instructor in commercial branches at Central high school, has resigned his position, which has been filled by A. E. Madener, who came here from Wisconsin.

Mr. Smith has been given charge of this district, including Greene, Warren and part of Clinton county for the Hamilton Brokerage Company, as a stock salesman, and is at present handling an issue of stock for the City's Mortgage Co., of Columbus, the largest mortgage company in central Ohio.

R. A. KELLY NAMED COUNTY CHAIRMAN AERO ORGANIZATION

Robert A. Kelly of this city, has been notified that he has been appointed sectional chairman for Greene county of the World's Board of Aeronautical Commissioners Inc., by the governors of that organization.

The letter notifying him of his appointment came from Charles J. Glidden, president.

The World's Board of Aeronautical Commissioners was formed for the purpose of advancing aeronautics and encouraging the use of aircraft throughout the world, in the world, in the transportation of passengers, mail and merchandise.

The governors contemplate setting up a national organization in all the countries and colonies in which they are represented at present, and may be represented hereafter. The national organization for the United States is headed by a group of forty eight divisional chairmen, one for each state. Harold C. Eustis is the divisional chairman for Ohio, The sectional chairmen will serve the organization in an advisory capacity in the advancement of aeronautics in the county which he represents.

The Aeronautical Commissioners are also sponsoring a plan for an aero trip around the world.

Seventeen football letter men and two managers of Central high school managers were awarded their printed certificates of athletic prowess at an assembly of the school Wednesday morning at 11:30 o'clock.

The Rev. W. H. Tilford, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, an ardent football fan who followed the fortunes of the eleven on the gridiron this season, was selected to deliver the speech at the presentation ceremonies and awarded the "X" certificates.

The Rev. Mr. Tilford spoke of the team work displayed by the eleven and there were no factions tending to destroy the cooperation of the players and gave the team full honor for being champions of south-central Ohio. He then called upon each of the letter men in turn to come forward and receive their certificates and each was applauded by the student body. When Robert Ballentyne came forward for his certificate he was asked to read an original poem he had composed "To the Coach" a tribute to the ability and popularity of Coach Jerry L. Katherman, who directed the team this fall.

Captain Marcus McCallister, with a little speech, presented to Captain elect Donald Currie, the "ghost" ball, painted white and lettered with the team's record of 222 points to seven scored by opponents, to be a permanent trophy of the school. This ceremony will be carried out each year in the future, and the ball will be kept in the trophy case.

The players who received their certificates were Captain McCallister, Captain-elect D. Currie, Ex-Captain Boxwell, Lones, Randall, Fuller, A. Currie, Purdom, Ballentyne, Smith, Yeakley, Hendrickson, Reutinger, Cowan, David, Douthett and Ferguson. The managers who received certificates were Mendenhall and Terrell. After the awarding of the certificates the four honorary mention players, Lane, Botoroff, G. Keller and Hagler were asked to arise and were applauded, after which the student body applauded the entire squad.

XENIA BOY GETS HONOR AT SCHOOL

William B. LeSourd, former Central high basketball star of this city, is said to be one of the best forwards on the freshmen basketball squad at Ohio Wesleyan University.

Athletic authorities at Wesleyan are saying nice things about the lad who captained the blue and white five here last year, and who helped his team to establish one of the best court records Central high has ever enjoyed.

Over 85 men responded to the first call for candidates at Wesleyan, and from these a squad of about 30 of the freshmen team are expected to fill regular varsity berths next year, when four of the first string men graduate and the fact that the Xenia student is still on the squad is indication that he will be a likely candidate for the varsity next year.

SURVEY SHOWS 234 XENIA PUPILS DO NOT ATTEND CHURCH

Two hundred and thirty four pupils in the Xenia public schools, do not attend either church or Sunday School.

This information was obtained in a survey made by teachers under the direction of Superintendent C. A. Waltz, at the request of The Greene County Sunday School Association.

The number of children who are not affiliated with any religious denomination is twelve and one half per cent of the total enrollment of 1874.

McKinley building with 61, shows the largest number of pupils who do not attend either church or Sunday School. The number is divided as follows among the other schools: Lincoln building, 59; Spring Hill, 39; Central High, 27; Central Grades, 24; Orient Hill, 24.

SONG SERVICE

KELLY CORDAGE MILL NOW ON FULL TIME

The R. A. Kelly Company began running its cordage factory on full time this week, after several months of part time work due to the general business depression.

So far only about one half or two-thirds of the regular force is employed, but the company is hopeful that business conditions will improve so that the full number of employees may be gradually taken on. The factory has been running only three days a week.

So far the machine shops of the Kelly company continue to be operated on a reduced force, for 40 hours a week. The factory is running five days and a half a week, Saturday afternoon having always been a half holiday.

HIGH SCHOOL FIVE IN OPENER FRIDAY ON RINK COURT HERE

Will Coach Jerry L. Katherman of Central High school have as good a basketball team at the local school as the football team of this fall.

This is one of the questions that fans expect to have partly decided when the blue and white quintet meets Commerce High of Columbus here at the Rink Friday night in the opening game of the season.

The effect of several weeks practice and stiff rehearsals on the big squad of nearly 40 men that turned out for the court game, will be watched with interest. During the last few weeks practice, it has been the task of the local mentor, to sift down this big lot of material and to construct from it a squad of seven or eight men, who will bear the title of regulars.

That this was a big task would have been proven to anyone who had cast an appraising eye over the material that presented itself to try out for the team this fall. With wealth of material on hand, it is thought possible that Coach Katherman will use a number of tossers in the game against Commerce in order to get a line on the respective abilities of the candidates.

If the cage team is to establish as good a record as the eleven this season, it will have to begin by defeating the Columbus cagers here Friday, and because of this fact, there is much hinging on the game and much interest being manifested among the fans.

KEEP POT BOILING FOR XMAS DINNERS

"Keep the pot boiling," is the slogan of the American Rescue Workers, which is planning to care for needy families at Christmas time, through the kindness and generosity of the public.

The Rescue Workers hope to make up 30 or 40 Christmas baskets for poor people and the organization is cooperating with the Social Service League so that there will be no duplication of baskets received by any one family.

In the basket of the Rescue Workers will be a chicken and all the good things that go with it. Donations other than money will be received either by the worker in charge of the pot on the street corner or by Captain Bud Entsminger at his home, 24 Trumbull street. Already 12 or 15 chickens have been donated. It is said and these donations are as welcome as the money.

Needy people who feel that they deserve a basket for Christmas should drop their names and addresses on a slip of paper in the money pot, and their cases will be investigated.

CALLED BY DEATH ON WEDNESDAY

After a lingering illness, suffering from a complication of diseases, Frank Hupman, 69, passed away at his home a 20 West Main Street, Wednesday afternoon at 5 o'clock. He had been ill for the past two years, his condition resulting from paralysis.

Mr. Hupman was born on a farm near Spring Valley Dec. 26, 1852 and previous to moving to this city, had resided on a farm on the Cincinnati pike. He has lived in this city for about 10 years. He was the son of John and Jane Hupman.

Mr. Hupman was a member of the First Reformed Church, and Xenia Lodge No. 52, I. O. O. F. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Elizabeth Weaver Hupman and three brothers and one sister, Charles and Harvey of Xenia, and Christopher, of West Carleton, and Mrs. Emma Webb, of South Charleston.

Funeral services will be held at the late home, Saturday afternoon at 1:30 in charge of the Rev. E. W. Middleton. Interment will be made at Woodland cemetery.

Today's Talk

by George Matthew Adams

FAME

It takes a strong character indeed to live under piercing rays of fame.

And many a one fails and fails under its influence.

Yet who does not long to be famous? Make me famous!—how often we hear these expressions.

But fame is like nearly everything that comes through accident or effort, it has to be taken care of. It has to be fed. And often the mere feeding of it produces soul indigestion—even as rich foods and excesses destroy the one who is given sudden wealth after long years of want and poverty.

C. L. DARLINGTON INSTALLS OFFICERS OF DAYTON LEGION

State Commander Charles L. Darlington explained to the legionnaires the method to be used in distributing the soldiers' bonus recently awarded. He said that this distribution will be made through the American Legion posts in the various counties.

Thirty-five new members were taken into the Dayton post. Resolutions were passed thanking the community chest for its appropriation to the Stand By Society to continue its service work in the county.

MALCOLM ASKS JOAN TO MARRY HIM CHAPTER 114.

While Joan pretended to dismiss Malcolm's arguments with disdain, she could not forget that he had called her selfish. She had not meant to be selfish with dear old Mumzie! Never once had she planned her future separated from her. All the good that came to her, Joan, would as a matter of course also come to her mother. That Margaret Hayden would enjoy living her own life in her own way rather than shining through the reflected light of her daughter's happiness or cleverness, never had occurred to Joan. And this, as we know, was not entirely her fault. She had been so absolutely sure that her mother needed no one but her, no love but that she gave her, that it was a bit difficult for Joan to appreciate how such action appeared to an onlooker.

Then, too, something new and sweet was stirring in Joan. She missed Malcolm Frost when she did not see him, her heart beat with joy when she did, even though she at times almost quarreled with him.

And Malcolm? He had never told Joan—not since they were tiny kids together, but he had always intended to marry Joan Hayden, and nothing changed his intentions.

He had been very faithful to his childhood's sweetheart, and somehow Joan knew it although he made no protestations. Had Dean Tennant or Ted Walters talked to her as Malcolm did, she would have instantly ordered them out of her studio. But Malcolm knew and admired Mumzie, and it was only fair to let him have his say. It didn't hurt her—much.

Malcolm met Craig Forrester in the street just as he was starting to get his luncheon, a matter of few minutes. Forrester asked him to be his guest and Malcolm gladly accepted.

"I had a long talk with Joan last night!" he said after Forrester had given the waiter the order.

"Yes?"

"She didn't like it much, but I know I am right," Malcolm said in that boyish way of his that so attracted people to him. "She has an idea that her mother needs nothing, no one, but her, the selfish little beast! That's what I called her too. You see, we got to arguing about it. I said I thought her should marry, that she was young and lovely and that the world owed her something for sticking to Joan the way she has, making her while life just a circle around Joan, though that was all her mother wanted."

"What if Joan marries?" Forrester was secretly amused, but kept a serious face.

"Then she has planned for her mother to live with her. Can you imagine Mrs. Hayden in another home? Even Joan's! I can't."

"I wonder—" Craig Forrester paused, and looked keenly at the eager, intelligent face before him.

"You see, I intend to marry Joan," the young eager voice broke in upon Forrester's reverie. "And I am almost as fond of her mother as I am of her. Too fond to want her to live with us—and lose her own home."

"So it is settled, is it? I thought the straws blew that way. Congratulations, Frost."

"Oh, I haven't asked her yet. But I shall to-night."

"I say but you're all right! I won't."

der—would you like me for a father-in-law, Frost? Look me over well before you answer. I am very much in love with Mrs. Hayden. I have asked her to marry me. That little beast, Joan—your name for her, not mine—has absolutely refused to receive me into the family. Can't you help me, Frost?"

"Of course I can! and I think you and Mrs. Hayden would make a jolly couple. Don't worry, I'll fix it for you."

Craig Forrester chuckled frequently to himself that afternoon. This new generation, how adequate to themselves they were!

Just as soon as he could get away Malcolm hurried to the studio. Fortunately, he found Joan alone.

"Put your work down and listen to me, Joan," he said drawing her chair away from her desk.

"What is it, Malcolm?"

"Going to marry me, Joan?"

"Why, Malcolm—I—yes, Malcolm I will! There's no sense in our pretending we don't live in that sort of age. I think I have always known I should marry you sometime."

"There's been no 'think' in my mind. I knew I should marry you."

We draw the curtain upon the next few moments.

"Soon, Joan?"

"When you wish, Malcolm."

To Be Continued.

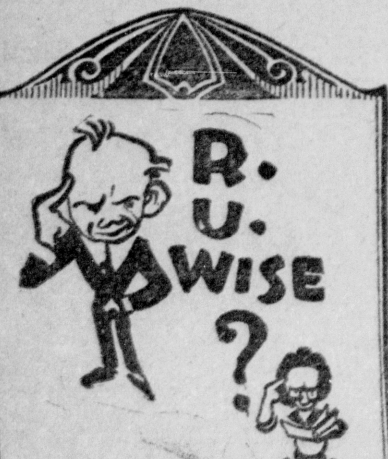

CUTICURA HEALS RED PIMPLES

On Child's Face and Hands.
Itched and Burned.

"When my brother was two months old his face and hands began to break out with soft red pimples, which scaled over. They itched and burned and caused him to scratch. We had him treated without success. We began using Cuticura Soap and Ointment and after using one cake of Cuticura Soap and one box of Cuticura Ointment he was completely healed, in two weeks." (Signed) Irvin Sess, Lansing, Iowa.

Sales in 1915 $48,000
Approximate Sales 1921, $2,000,000
Increase Over 4000%

It is hard to realize such business growth from an original capital investment of only $3000. This is a partial record of the development of an economic idea efficiently executed by

The Giant Tire Company of Findlay, Ohio.

The year 1921 is admittedly the worst tire year known — and November the worst tire month. Yet the Giant Tire Co.'s sales during both the year and the month are far in excess of the same periods a year ago.

Net earnings during 1921 will approximate $100,000 after charging off an equal amount to cover loss in material values. They will show 16 2/3% earned on 30,000 shares — the capital stock of the company — on a price basis of $20 per share.

Officials of the company estimate conservatively that net earnings will equal $6.00 per share in 1922.

The Giant Tire Co. rebuilds tires — it rebuilds them from inner lining to tread after completely stripping or tearing them down.

Giant rebuilt tires sell for about half the price of new tires and give more mileage per dollar of cost. The output of The Giant Tire Co. is sold thru approximately 1200 appointed agents working on a commission basis.

All sales are cash with order or on delivery. The capital of the company is turned over quickly, profitably and safely.

The Giant Tire Co. has been wonderfully efficient and successful thru a most trying period.

Its present rate of earnings seems assured — an increased rate seems most assured — while another seven years of growth in same proportion as the past seven would make the rate sensational.

The management contemplates inaugurating dividends the first quarter in 1922 at the rate of $2.00 or more per share per year.

We are recommending and offering

Class A Stock at $20 per Share
